

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Foundations of Intelligence Analyst Training (FIAT) program is accepting applications for new instructors to deliver the benchmark training program of IALEIA and LEIU.

The Instructor Development Program (IDP) will be offered:

September 27-29, 2016 in Sacramento, California

Minimum Requirements:

- A member in good standing for one year or more with IALEIA or LEIU
- Employed in private sector as a security analyst (retail loss, security specialist in banking, credit cards) law enforcement intelligence analyst, military intelligence analyst for a minimum of five years
- Able to pass a security clearance to enter host agency locations i.e. criminal records check, clean driver's abstract in order to rent vehicles
- Documentation on agency letterhead stating that your immediate supervisor has supported your request and will support your commitment to volunteer to teach one class a year for IALEIA/LEIU

Applicants with prior teaching experience with adults and/or delivery of their agency/employer training will be given preference and should be documented by the immediate supervisor.

Complete the online application available at either:

www.ialeia.org or www.leiu.org

Include your resume and provide your supervisor's comments on agency letterhead that you meet the basic requirements--detailing additional training skills.

FIAT instruction is on a purely volunteer basis. Travel expenses for both the IDP and future training classes will be reimbursed by the IALEIA and LEIU associations.

Many instructors are rewarded by their home agencies with paid leave to contribute and share their expertise with other analysts. The shared experience is two-way. The contributing agency is investing in their analyst and helping them to grow into a recognized subject matter expert.

Applications will be accepted until:

August 8, 2016 - Midnight Eastern Standard Time

(depending on the number of applications the deadline may be closed earlier)

All requested applications must be scanned as a PDF and sent to the attention of:
